IN MEMORY

Ere the dark clouds were lifted from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett, by the going away of Mary Ruth and Earl, the Angel of Death again visited them and took their beloved Marguerite. She is not dead, only asleep. There is a lovely grave, a new made mound and Marguerite sleeps beneath a mound of beautiful flowers. But none so fair, none so rare as the life. She lived here on earth for 23 years. To know Marguerite was to love her. Her quiet unassuming smile and ways endeared her to those who knew her. Her married life to George Cranford was fifteen short happy months. She was his idol. He was her sweetheart; they were so happy, but God needed her more than earthly parents, brothers, sister or husband, so she went away to live with him and left our lonely hearts to grieve. The emptiness, the vacancy, can only be filled with God's love and just over the hills into the city of God we shall see her again. —One who loved her.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh- Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor... today, as if the two could never be together. But look at Bert... who has 320 acres of land, a fair-sized herd and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at those friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talking together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

Hot as a firecracker. That's an expression. Hot as a soldering iron. That's a fact! A fact spelling progress as new telephone connections are soldered together—putting speed into the Telephone Company's program to improve service.

Telephone folks are in the thick of things, striving to give you as quickly as humanly possible the kind of service you want. Installing equipment for more and better telephone service is a time-consuming, complicated job. Miles of wiring must be laced into switchboards. Millions of intricate connections soldered, each in its precise place. Banks of electrical relays set up. Cables laid. Poles erected. Wires strung. And sometimes a whole new building constructed.

"Get the work out!"

That's our slogan. And that's exactly what we are doing as fast as we can get the materials and then install the equipment.

PROGRESS...and How!

In KENTUCKY during 1946, the Telephone Company installed more facilities than at any other time in history. 34,000 miles of exchange wire, 518 miles of long distance circuits, and 3,303 telephones were added. 76 local and long distance central office additions were made and the number of employees increased 30 per cent. Watch telephone service grow, for as it grows so does its value to you. That's because you can reach so many more people!

THE AMERICAN WAY

SECOND CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

Last November the citizens of Arizona, Nebraska and South Dakota voted to make the "Closed Shop" illegal in their states. While these latest three states to join the growing ranks of those that outlaw the "Closed Shop" are not important industrial states, nevertheless, it is a straw in the wind that union labor leaders will do well to recognize.

Repeatedly in this column I have stated that I am for organized labor; that I recognize the right of labor to bargain collectively by all legitimate methods, but that this must be done without dictation, coercion, intimidation, domination or interference of any kind. The American worker must have the freedom to choose for himself whether or not he wishes to become and to remain a member of a labor union.

Union labor has made great strides in recent years. All decent Americans wish to see union labor keep any legitimate gains that it has made. But union labor members, if they are to hold these gains must throw off the shackles of a greedy minority in their leadership which is exploiting them for the labor leaders' own selfish purposes. Already union labor has aroused considerable public opinion against it—the same public opinion which formerly was favorable and which enabled it to move forward.

The public for the most part is neutral in the battle between organized labor and industry, about the 40 hour week, overtime pay, portal to portal pay, minimum wages, etc., but it is no longer neutral about the struggle between the 15 million union workers and the 40 million American workers who do not belong to any union.

The public is aware that when our forefathers drew up the Declaration of Independence, they naturally assumed that "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness" included the "Free Right to Work." For without the latter, the former three are impossible of attainment.

Today, however, the 15 million union group, through the arrogance of certain of its leaders, is asserting a new doctrine, to wit: that American citizenship does not carry with it the "Free Right to Work," that the remaining 40 millions of workers must obtain their SECOND CITIZENSHIP PAPERS from labor unions before they can exercise their first American citizenship.

Under this un-American doctrine millions of American citizens have been forced to apply and pay for SECOND CITIZENSHIP PAPERS in order to take a job and hold it. Even during the war many men who engaged in war production work were forced to join a union before they could begin to perform their patriotic duties.

Because so few labor unions divulge their revenues, no authentic figures can be cited as to the "aggregate tax" now levied against workers by our "sub-government" of labor politicians, but it is conservatively estimated that their annual "take" is around 1 billion dollars. Under existing laws, for the most part, this vast sum is spent in whatever manner the "unioners" see fit, for their own selfish aggrandizement and to the disadvantage of all groups of society.

The citizens of Arizona, Nebraska and South Dakota have just spoken. They have reiterated that American citizenship entitles a man to a job; that within the confines of their states, no SECOND CITIZENSHIP PAPERS need be purchased from a union to go or to hold a job. Union labor will do well to heed this warning and drop its insistence on the "Closed Shop."

Failing to do this, it will only be a question of time till Congress enacts a Federal law stipulating that no American need take out SECOND CITIZENSHIP PAPERS to enjoy the "Free Right to Work" which is so essential to his rights to "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

CASE AGAINST NATIONAL BARGAINING

In the opinion of many authorities, one step necessary to the fair solution of the strike problem must be the elimination of national bargaining.

Under national bargaining, one union signs agreements with all or practically all of the concerns producing a given commodity. If that union then strikes, production of the commodity ceases in its entirety. Coal is a good example. The contract signed between the United Mine Workers and the government last May covered the vast majority of the nation's soft coal mines. The strike was called—and the entire nation was imperiled at a time when uninterrupted coal production was essential not only to industrial activity but to the public health.

National bargaining, in effect, gives unions monopoly power over industry—precisely the same kind of monopoly power that was outlawed in management by the anti-trust statutes. And it presents exactly the same danger to the public interest.

One student of the problem put it this way: "Competition and free enterprise should be restored, and they can be restored only by limiting the size and scope of bargaining agreements, whether in coal, steel, automobiles, tires, or anything else." There is no question here of imperiling the rights of labor—they can be completely protected by agreements between the employers and employees in individual companies. The sole question is to protect the American people against a principle of bargaining which has resulted in giving special groups dictatorial control over the production of a long list of essential goods. That is an obvious duty of the present Congress.

PESSIMISM UNJUSTIFIED

Author Louis Bromfield says that a "creeping inflation" is slowly bringing the United States to "the economic pinch" and to the "lowered living standards" that have existed in Europe for three centuries.

There seems to be no doubt of the "creeping inflation" but there is little reason to believe that the standard of living in this country will get down to the level of that existing in Europe.

The complaint of Mr. Bromfield is addressed to events that have been underway "since the civil war" and his solution is "dollars that buy more." Obviously, more dollars buying less are just as good as fewer dollars buying more. It's a nice distinction insofar as the average worker is concerned but of great importance to those who have already amassed a store of dollars.

There is little use to worry about the pessimism of the Ohio writer. After all, wasn't he the man who predicted that there would be a famine in the United States?

JUSTIFY MERCY KILLINGS

"Mercy" killings, with proper safeguards, should not be regarded as "contrary to the teachings of Christ or the principles of Christianity," declare fifty-four prominent Protestant clergymen in New York, in signing a statement approving voluntary euthanasia under careful safeguards.

The statements calls attention to the proposal to legalize the painless death for persons desiring it, who are suffering from incurable, fatal and painful disease. It is being advocated by the Euthanasian Society of America and is being advocated and condemned upon ethical legal and medical grounds. There is much to be said in favor of the merciful killing of individuals doomed to death by incurable and painful diseases, but there is also great importance in the condition attached, "under careful safeguards." This, we presume, will prevent the premature dispatch of unwanted persons by throwing precautions around the legalization of euthanasia.

Human being will naturally differ in their attitude toward the process to hasten death and many will assert, upon the basis of religious convictions, that such mercy killings violate the will of God.

U. S. IS NO DEMOCRACY

Thomas Stokes, newspaper columnist, is worried because some people are beginning to point out that the nation is a Republic, rather than a Democracy.

The idea that the States, in forming the Federal Union, organized a democracy may be interesting to so-called Liberals but, as a matter of fact, the Federal Government, at its beginning, was not designed for democracy.

In the respective States it is quite possible to have a democratic form of government but when one considers the Federal Government, as a whole, with its State lines respected and its votes in the Electoral College cast by States, the idea of a Democracy disappears.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Pain In The Back

One of the most common causes of complaint, especially among women, is pain in the back.

Dr. Howard Kelly, a great surgeon said, "The pain varies in intensity from a mild intermittent ache coming on when the patient is tired, perhaps in association with a headache, to a suffering of such intensity that she feels as though her back were breaking in two and is unable to rise from a couch or chair without suffering, often expressed in loud groanings." Backache is especially common among run down or nervous people. The laity usually attributes a backache to kidney disease if the sufferer is a male, or to some disease of the female organs, if a female. This, however, is not the case. It is more often due to other causes.

Backache is frequently caused by a posture which causes the abdomen to sag and drag upon the sensitive nerves. Especially in stout people the drag of the large abdomen causes sway back, which brings on straining of the pelvic joints. Pain and weakness due to the constant pull are sure to be the result.

Rheumatic pains are very common especially in the back. The X-ray often shows arthritis of the spine, which produces a constant nagging, disabling pain and disability. The treatment for this condition has greatly improved in the last few years. Physiotherapy is the best means of relieving the condition. Penetrating heat, hydrotherapy, light and Swedish massage give splendid results. The pain is not only relieved, but with the above treatments, a proper diet and rest, the patient makes spectacular improvements.

A common cause of backache is constipation, which is usually relieved after the bowels have been thoroughly emptied.

Many acute illnesses come on with severe headache, pain in the limbs and fever. Malaria is an example, for the onset is usually ushered in by chilly feelings and intense backache accompanied by fever.

When a woman lowers her voice, it's a sign she wants something; when she raises it, it's a sign she didn't get it.

It all depends on what the Mrs. is to verify the statement that blondes are no dumber than brunettes.

The fellow who hinks of what he's going to say next while you're talking to him lacks versatility of knowledge.

HOW COMMUNITY PLANNING HAS HELPED
THE PEOPLE OF 20 KENTUCKY CITIES

FINER living conditions, greater and better employment opportunities, and additional local and state tax revenues for roads and schools rank high among the hopes-for-the-future of people in every city in Kentucky. To make them possible, greater industrialization, town by town, is the aim of business and civic organizations throughout the state.

During 1946, the planning and efforts of no fewer than 20 Kentucky communities bore fruit. New industries brought new benefits to their citizens and to their adjacent farm populations. In these 20 cities were located 28 new manufacturing or processing plants that will employ more than 4,000 local people.

The location of these new plants did not come about through mere chance. Progressive leaders in these communities assembled information about plant sites, living conditions, the amount of male and female labor available, tax rates, transportation facilities, and other pertinent data. And the proper agencies made it known that the people in the communities would welcome new industry. Out-of-state business men were made to feel wanted, and were sold on the town. Your community can do it, too.

MY COMPANY WANTS TO HELP YOUR COMMUNITY

Its Industrial Department will work with your business leaders, just as it did with those in the 20 cities mentioned above. As an aid in assembling required information, it has prepared and published a booklet that carefully and completely outlines each step in building and promoting a better home town. This booklet was published following a survey of all local and regional methods used throughout the South to aid community growth and development. Ask for a copy of the Better Home Town survey at your nearest K. U. office, or write Kentucky Utilities Company, Lexington. It's free to anyone interested in improving his community.

PALESTINE HOMEMAKERS CLUB PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO MRS. E. A. THOMPSON

Mrs. W. P. McClanahan led the lesson on new ways of using canned products at the Palestine Homemakers club meeting in the home of Mrs. Hillman Collier last week.

Mrs. Jamse Wade was elected as delegate to the Farm and Home convention. The delegate will give her report at a tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Robert Thompson Feb. 14. Mrs. Gus Browder, Mrs. Hillman Collier, Mrs. Roy Bard and Mrs. Robert Thompson were named as a committee to arrange the entertainment.

Mrs. M. B. Brown conducted the devotional and led the group in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

A tribute to Mrs. E. A. Thompson, deceased, was read by Mrs.

Morgan Davidson after it was prepared for the club by her and Mrs. J. H. Lawrence.

Mrs. Thompson, a charter member of the Palestine club, which was organized in June, 1928, had been active in the work until her last illness. She was a fine Christian woman and beloved by all who knew her. Her death brought a grave loss to her club, her church and her community.

Mrs. Gus Browder gave an interesting arm chair tour on Honduras. The landscape lesson was given by Mrs. A. M. Browder. The recreational program was directed by Mrs. Harvey Pewitt.

The club endorsed the DDT program in cooperation with Harry Barry, sanitary officer. Beautiful materials for hook rugs were displayed by Mrs. Adams.

Nineteen members and four visitors attended the meeting. Visitors were Mrs. Bertha Swiggart, Mrs. Carlie Bowers, Mrs. Eugene Hoodenpyle and Mrs. Ashby, all of Fulton and Mrs. Hoodenpyle and Mrs. Ashby joined the club.

Young Mother Thanks Retonga For Strength

Distress From Nervous Indigestion Almost Put Her In Bed, States Well-Known Resident. Can Eat Heartily Now And Feels Fine Again.

"The torment of nervous indigestion would have driven me to bed, but I have three youngsters to look after and just couldn't give up. Retonga brought me relief that seems almost too good to be true and I now carry on singing cheerfully as I work," happily declares Mrs. Lucile Holt, well-known young matron of Route 1, Adams, Tenn.

"I lost all desire for food and had to force myself to eat enough to keep going. Gas pains in my stomach frequently cut almost like a knife. I felt a nudge and irritable and never seemed to get a full night's rest. I took strong laxatives but constipation still caused raging headaches and I would almost scream from muscular pains in my shoulders and back. I would have been much better off in bed."

"Within a few days after I started taking Retonga I began to crave food, and in two weeks all my distress was happily relieved."

MRS. LUCILE HOLT

I eat even heavy foods, sleep restfully and feel so much stronger I can now give my children the care they need. I hope my experience will lead others to happier living through Retonga."

Retonga is a purely herbal gastric tonic combined with liberal quantities of Vitamin B-1 and is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of the digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at the City Drug Co. in Fulton. adv.

You can laugh at wind-driven rains

...if you Aquellize those leaking walls now!

THANKS to Aquella, a howling north-easter can no longer drive rain through the porous masonry walls of your home—regardless whether they're built of brick, concrete, stucco, cement plaster, or light weight concrete masonry units.

Why this certainty that Aquella will remedy this periodic grief of yours... and succeed where other materials have failed?

It's the entirely new principle on which Aquella works!

Look at this photographic enlargement of a small sawed-away section of an Aquellized concrete masonry unit. Unlike so-called "waterproofing paints" Aquella penetrates to fill, close and seal the pores of the masonry. Aquella is equally effective inside or outside...above or below ground. It has a cheerfully bright white finish...does not powder, peel, flake or rub off...and can be painted over with any color.

If you're cursed with leaking walls—or would like to turn that wet, dingy cellar into a snug and cozy playroom or workshop—come in and let us supply you with Aquella now!
